*Wilderness trails are open only to hikers and pack stock (no motorized use or mountain bikes allowed). All Sawtooth Wilderness users must have a permit for wilderness use. Groups of 8 or more, or overnight stock users, must obtain a permit from a Forest Service office. Self-issued wilderness permits are available at trailheads for all other users. In the Hemingway-Boulders Wilderness and the Cecil D. Andrus White Clouds Wilderness there are sign-in sheets at the trailheads.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is an equal opportunity provider and employer.
